Premier Business Centers Joins Forces with Face to Face Live in Offering High Definition Video Conferencing Services

Premier Business Centers makes it convenient and cost effective for its clients to benefit from easy to use high definition video communications technology

Irvine, CA – February 18, 2009: Premier Business Centers, leading national operators of executive office centers throughout the United States, named Face to Face Live as their corporate wide provider of video conferencing services. Face to Face Live, headquartered in Scottsdale, Arizona, rents and sells LifeSize® brand high definition video communications equipment, and provides full managed video conferencing services for its customers worldwide.

Premier Business Centers' full-service executive office suites allow its clients to do business in a first-class professional environment without the hassle of managing the office. By eliminating the distractions and time-consuming business decisions such as office administration and equipment leases, Premier Business Centers' clients can work more efficiently and more profitably. By offering the advantage of easy to use high definition video conferencing capabilities at the majority of its centers, Premier is making available to its clients another state of the art business service. Jeffrey Reinstein, CEO of Premier Business Centers, said "We are excited to offer this new technology to our clients. We're focused on helping our clients succeed in their business. With this technology our clients will be able to make video conference calls for a fraction of the cost of a roundtrip airline ticket, with the same results as meeting in person. We are hoping this option will reduce their travel and overall operating expenses."

Reinstein continued by saying "By working with Face to Face Live, we can now offer reliable, easy to use video conferencing at a cost which is much less than the competition. Also, their managed service allows us to concentrate on our clients and their needs without having to worry about maintaining video conferencing technology. We believe Face to Face's video conferencing systems and services are by far the best quality in the marketplace today. Our clients are thrilled with this new offering. We've had a lot of interest from outside parties as well."

Face to Face will be equipping Premier's centers with video conferencing systems made by LifeSize®, which is the recognized leader in quality, high definition video conferencing products. Face to Face, a Tier I reseller for LifeSize®, offers the products for rent, which gives any business the ability to avoid any upfront capital outlay and yet have the most state of the art capabilities just by paying a monthly fee.

Al Smith, CEO of Face to Face Live, said "we are excited about the opportunity to work with Premier Business Centers. Premier is the "crème de la crème" of executive office centers nationwide, and we look forward to a liaison providing their clients with an outstanding product and great customer service. This is a win-win for both companies. Our Network Operating Center provides support and services, including multipoint bridging, reservations, and call initiation, all of which allows Premier to service their clients globally."

Most of Premier's locations throughout the U.S. will have the systems installed by March 1st, 2009.
